CPC Welcomes Two New Physicians to its Practice in Johns Creek and Snellville CPC is pleased to announce the addition of two new physicians to its practice in Johns Creek and Snellville, Georgia. Dr. Himanshi Chopra and Dr. Nikeva Johnson are both board-certified family medicine physicians who are committed to providing personalized care to their patients. Dr. Chopra is a specialist in preventative medicine, dermatology, women's health, and outpatient procedures. She has received the prestigious Graduate Medical Education Excellence Award by AAFP in 2021, which recognized her as one of the top 12 resident physicians in the country. Dr. Johnson is an internist with a passion for primary care and patient-centered care. She completed her internal medicine residency at Emory University School of Medicine and values building meaningful relationships with her patients. Both Dr. Chopra and Dr. Johnson are accepting new patients at their respective locations. Their expertise includes treating various health conditions such as high blood pressure, diabetes, and obesity, as well as providing preventive healthcare services like annual wellness physicals and cancer screenings. At Comprehensive Primary Care, our team is dedicated to providing personalized attention to help individuals thrive. We offer a range of services including same-day appointments, telemedicine, and in-house labs. Our medical team will work closely with you to monitor your results, health changes, and make any necessary adjustments. Comprehensive Primary Care offers comprehensive healthcare services, including fall risk assessments and chronic disease management plans tailored to both men and women's unique needs. Women's wellness visits, STD testing, and cancer screenings are available in-office. On-site birth control counseling, medically supervised weight loss plans, and patient education resources are also provided. Schedule a consultation online or call the nearest office at (770) 806-2928. ###ARTICLEOur goal is to improve your health by changing your diet, exercising more, and losing weight. They can also help you achieve a healthy body weight and reduce the risk of chronic diseases. If you need updated vaccinations or the seasonal flu shot, you can get them during your visit. To schedule an appointment, call the Comprehensive Primary Care office near you or book a consultation online today. At Northside Gwinnett Family Medicine, our aim is to offer quality medical care to the Lawrenceville community and surrounding Gwinnett County area. Our physician, John E. West, MD, Christopher Shoji, DO, and family nurse practitioner, Monica Bertram, FNP-C, provide a full range of services and take pride in working together with their patients to help them achieve better health. As a family physician, Dr. West focuses on maintaining your overall health and wellness through regular check-ups. We also care for many chronic medical conditions such as hypertension, diabetes, and gastrointestinal issues. Regular screenings and early detection are key to successful health maintenance and wellness. Dr. West is also a specialist in cholesterol and lipid disorders. He can help detect and treat these conditions early on to prevent coronary artery disease and heart attacks. Dr. West, Mrs. Bertram, and our staff are committed to delivering top-notch medical care and an excellent patient experience. We look forward to serving you and your family as your primary care providers.
