We care about your privacy at Publix Super Markets, Inc., so we have developed this Privacy Policy (the Policy) to inform you how we use the information that we collect about you in association with our websites, mobile applications, and other online and offline services (collectively, the Services). If you do not agree to our Terms of Use (the Terms), together with this Policy, which the Terms incorporate by reference, your right to access or use the Services is terminated. We collect information from various sources, including third-party platforms and social media sites. This information can include identifiers, demographics, education details, address information, internet activity, and preferences. The type of data collected depends on the privacy settings and policies of the third-party platform. We also use cookies and similar technologies to gather information about how you interact with our services. This helps us improve the user experience, support marketing campaigns, and offer personalized content. When using mobile devices, Publix collects various information, including device type, IP address, operating system, browser usage, location data, and barcode scanning details. Location data is used for location-based services and offers. In addition, we collect precise location information from Bluetooth beacons, GPS, Wi-Fi signals, or cell tower signals using mobile devices. This information helps provide location-based services, content, and offers. We collect information from you through various means, including our contractual obligations, digital properties' terms of use, relevant industry standards, and our policies. We may combine this information with data from other sources to better understand your behavior and preferences. ##ARTICLEWe collect information about you when you use our digital properties and services. This information may include your name, email address, location, browser type, operating system, and device identifiers. We do not store any personal identifiable information that can be linked back to you. Visit www.allaboutdnt.org for more information on this developing area. You can opt out of interest-based advertising from third-party providers who follow the Digital Advertising Alliance's Self-Regulatory Principles for Online Behavioral Advertising at www.aboutads.info/choices. Third-party content and activities may be provided by external sources, whose data collection and usage practices may differ from ours. We do not control or support these practices. We use administrative, technical, and physical safeguards to protect the information we collect via our services. However, no system can be 100% secure, and we cannot guarantee the absolute security of your information. Publix is responsible for protecting children's privacy. We do not knowingly solicit or collect personal information from children under 13 without parental consent. Our services are controlled by us in the United States and may be subject to different laws and regulations outside of our country. However, we will handle your personal data according to this policy regardless of where it is stored or accessed. You can contact us if you have any questions about our privacy policy or practices.
